Miele's 3D Cutlery Tray Provides New Level of Convenience
Accommodates larger utensils and taller stemware

With the launch of the new Generation 6000 dishwashers, Miele increased the flexibility and performance of the entire category. A key feature for such convenience is Miele's new enhanced 3D Cutlery Tray. This breakthrough in design comes after Miele created and patented the first ever cutlery tray in 1988 and continued making innovative improvements with each generation.

The new 3D Cutlery Tray is truly an innovation from the inventor of the category – instantly adapting to accommodate larger utensils and taller stemware. Large ladles, whisks and spatulas now fit effortlessly within the dishwasher and shine bright with the use of Miele's three signature full-size spray arms.

Large stemware fits easily in the middle basket as the 3D Cutlery Tray is designed in sections so it can easily slide side to side, allowing the stems to extend past the normal basket height.
