Miele Launches Complete Line of Rangetops

Professional Rangetops Present the Pinnacle of Performance and Design

Princeton, NJ – The precise performance found in the cooktop of the newly launch Miele Range is also available in Rangetop assortments. The all gas units, ranging in size from 30”, 36” and 48”, offer the sophisticated professional look reminiscent of the Range series.

Innovative in Every Detail

Each unit presents the ultimate flexibility in cooking with the M Pro Dual Stacked Burner System with capabilities that go as high as 19,500 BTUs, but low enough for TrueSimmer.

Precise Performance

For even more flexibility, the 36 and 48 inch models have the ability to be customized with an M Pro Grill or M Pro Infrared Griddle. The M Pro Grill offers high power output and even heat distribution for precise indoor grilling, while the M Pro Infrared Griddle presents an ideal cooking surface with constant power and heat control for desired results.

Sophisticated Design

Elements like the stainless steel backlit precision knobs (offered on all models) highlight the company’s attention to detail, while also serving as a safety function when the unit is in use. For easy cleaning and maintenance, the ComfortClean grates are dishwasher-safe and the unit has a Clean Touch Steel™ front that resists fingerprints and smudges.
